MONTHLY LIST OF PUBLICATIONS

JUNE, 1930

Send no remittances to the U. S. Department of Agriculture

A copy of any of the general publications listed herein, except those otherwise noted, may be obtained free upon application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., as long as the department's supply lasts. Free distribution of periodicals is restricted.

After the department's supply is exhausted, publications may still be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., but by purchase only, and at the prices stated herein.

Send all remittances to the Superintendent of Documents direct. His office is not a part of the Department of Agriculture.

GENERAL PUBLICATIONS

FARMERS' BULLETINS

These bulletins discuss in nontechnical language a wide variety of subjects pertaining to the farm and farm home.

The home production of onion seed and sets. W. R. Beattie, Bureau of Plant Industry. 18 p., figs. 11. (Farmers' Bulletin 434 F., revised.) Price, 5¢.

Squab raising. Alfred R. Lee, Bureau of Animal Industry. 21 p., figs. 19. (Farmers' Bulletin 684 F., revised.) Price, 5¢.

Diseases and insects of garden vegetables. W. W. Gilbert, Bureau of Plant Industry, and C. H. Popenoe, Bureau of Entomology. 46 p., figs. 65. (Farmers' Bulletin 1371 F., revised.) Price, 10¢.

Care and management of dairy bulls. J. R. Dawson, Bureau of Dairy Industry. 22 p., figs. 21. (Farmers' Bulletin 1412 F., revised.) Price, 5¢.

Rat control. James Silver, Bureau of Biological Survey. 21 p., figs. 10. (Farmers' Bulletin 1533 F., revised.) Price, 5¢.

The Hessian fly and how losses from it can be avoided. W. R. Walton and C. M. Packard, Bureau of Entomology. 14 p., figs. 14. Farmers' Bulletin 1627 F.) Price, 5¢.

This bulletin is a revision of and supersedes Farmers' Bulletin No. 1083, The Hessian fly and how to prevent losses from it.

LEAFLETS

This series carries popular material of the same general character as that carried by the Farmers' Bulletins, except that the leaflets are confined to specific practical directions, recommendations, remedies, and methods. They are brief and concise, written in informal, popular style, and are limited to eight pages.

Improved sanitation in milk production. R. J. Posson. Revised by C. S. Leete, Bureau of Dairy Industry. 8 p., figs. 8. (Leaflet 3 L., revised.) Price, 5¢.

Rabbit-house construction. Prepared by the Bureau of Biological Survey and the Bureau of Public Roads. 8 p., figs. 5. (Leaflet 15 L., revised.) Price, 5¢.

Constructive details for rabbit houses, giving attention both to the comfort of the animals and the convenience of the caretaker.

English sparrow control. E. R. Kalmbach, Bureau of Biological Survey. 8 p., figs. 7. (Leaflet 61 L.) Price, 5¢.

Sets forth economical and effective measures for local control of the sparrow population, including designs for traps and formulas for poison bait.

TECHNICAL BULLETINS

The Technical Bulletins contain the results of scientific and research work applying to a special crop, industry, or locality. The editions are limited, as they are intended primarily for scientific workers and subject-matter specialists.

Principles of box and crate construction. C. A. Plaskett, Forest Service. 134 p., figs. 34, pls. 42. (Technical Bulletin 171 T.) Price, 55¢.

Based on investigations at Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wisconsin. Gives formulas, rules, and instructions for designing all of the common types of boxes and crates, and deals with special requirements and properties of container woods. Intended primarily for box and crate manufacturers and shippers.

Origin and distribution of the commercial strawberry crop. J. W. Strowbridge, Bureau of Agricultural Economics. 104 p., figs. 57. (Technical Bulletin 180 T.) Price, 25¢.

Discussed briefly by text and presented more fully by tables and graphs.

Factors affecting the mechanical application of fertilizers to the soil. Arnon L. Mehring, Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, and Glenn A. Cumings, Bureau of Public Roads. 96 p., figs. 26, pls. 18. (Technical Bulletin 182 T.) Price, 30¢.

Intended to give definite information regarding the drillability of the most commonly used fertilizers and the performance of various types of fertilizer distributors. Of interest principally to manufacturers and research workers.

Life history of the oriental peach moth at Riverton, N. J., in relation to temperature. Alvah Peterson and G. J. Haeussler, Bureau of Entomology. 38 p., figs. 22. (Technical Bulletin 183 T.) Price, 10¢.

As far as possible and advisable, long detailed life-history tables have been omitted. Summary tables and graphs have been used in their place; also all general information and biological data which do not have a direct bearing on the life cycle are omitted.

Erosion and silting of dredged drainage ditches. C. E. Ramser, Bureau of Public Roads. 55 p., figs. 24, pls. 22. (Technical Bulletin 184 T.) Price, 25¢.

Reports cross-sectional and hydraulic measurements and results of observations made between 1913 and 1921 on 22 dredged drainage ditches in Mississippi, Tennessee, and Iowa, of all conditions that influence the erosion and silting of ditches. Should assist the engineer in making predictions as to probable erosion and silting in ditches so that drainage improvements can be planned accordingly.

Irrigation requirements of the arid and semiarid lands of the Southwest. Samuel Fortier and Arthur A. Young, Bureau of Public Roads. 68 p., figs. 11. (Technical Bulletin 185 T.) Price, 15¢.

This report is the third of a series on irrigation requirements in the Western States. Data are presented to show that the area irrigated may be increased from 3,771,000 to 13,000,000 acres, provided the available water supply is efficiently controlled and utilized and the seasonal net irrigation requirements do not exceed the average quantity of irrigation water allotted to each of the subdivisions into which the territory is separated.

CIRCULARS

This series carries the less technical and more informal material of the same general nature as that in the Technical Bulletin series.

The Asiatic beetle, a serious pest in lawns. H. C. Hallock, Bureau of Entomology. 8 p., figs. 3. (Circular 117 C.) Price 5¢.

Gives the life history of this beetle and discusses practical measures of artificial control as well as the importation of parasites from the native home of the beetle.

Calculating waterfowl abundance on the basis of banding returns. Frederick C. Lincoln, Bureau of Biological Survey. 4 p., fig. 1. (Circular 118 C.) Price, 5¢.

Proposes a new method for estimating the numbers of waterfowl in North America in any one season. By this method it should be possible to arrive at an average percentage to serve as a standard.

MISCELLANEOUS PUBLICATIONS

This series includes those publications of a miscellaneous nature which do not fall within any of the other series issued by the department, particularly those of a size other than octavo. Such publications were formerly issued as Miscellaneous Circulars.

Anthelmintics for the removal of thorn-headed worms from swine, Willard H. Wright and H. B. Raffensperger, Bureau of Animal Industry. 12 p. (Miscellaneous Publication 79 MP.) Price, 5¢.

A semitechnical publication dealing with the life history and control of this parasite. Intended for parasitologists, veterinarians, and swine raisers.

SOIL SURVEYS

These reports consist of two parts: (1) A soil map in colors showing the extent and distribution of the different soils in the area covered by the survey; and (2) a printed report containing brief descriptions of the area, its climate and agriculture, and detailed descriptions of the soils. They are of interest and value primarily to residents of the area surveyed and to soil specialists. All requests for Soil Surveys are referred to the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, which controls their distribution.

Indiana, Wayne County. (1925, No. 21.) 15¢.

South Dakota, Brown County. (1925, No. 22.) 25¢.

Texas, Nacogdoches County. (1925, No. 24.) 25¢.

STATISTICAL BULLETINS

Tables giving statistics relating to one or more closely related agricultural commodities. Of interest to persons engaged in marketing or any business affected by agricultural production.
